SPAIN'S PEACEFUL WAR PREPARATIONS.

Sagasta's Organ, El Correo, Declares Roundly for Peace, and the Cabinet Hurries on the Navy.

MAINTAIN GOOD RELATIONS—BUILD MORE SHIPS.

Pacific Impressions Promoted, but $9,000,000 to Be Spent on Naval Artillery and a War Loan of Sixteen More to Be Urged.

By Frank Marshall White,

(Copyright, 1897, by W. R. Hearst.) Madrid, Nov. 10 .- Stocks rose to-day, owing to better news from Cuba and the United States. General Blanco cables from the former place that he has good hopes of the success of the autonomical reforms for the pacification of Cuba, and expects that he will be able to manage so that the sugar crop may be collected without much loss.

De Lome also sends rather optimistic telegrams from Washington regarding the attitude of the American Government, and says that the jingo spirit is not so strong as it was a few days ago.

Fil Correo, Sagasta's organ, writes to-night: "he last impressions received by the Government respecting the effects of its policy in Cuba and the United States are not unfavorable. The former impulse of the United States to interfere in Spanish affairs has been toned down considerably." The same paper in its leading article says: "Spain is in need of repairing her forces after her dered Father McPake, of the struggles in Cuba and the Philippines. She is, therefore, anxious for peace, and the conduct of the United States can contribute largely to maintain the good relation existing in both countries. The dignity of the United States people would surely not tolerate any other nation intervening in their own af- SKULL WAS CRUSHED IN.

Still Building Up the Navy.

In spite of these peaceful impressions the Government is resolved not to Janitress of St. Paul's Academy neglect to increase her navy. As was announced yesterday, the Cabinet Council to-night considered a lengthy, detailed statement made by the Minister of Marine, describing the present situation of the navy. The minister declared he could only dispose now of a little over half a million dellars for the building of new warships, all other credits voted for this object having been spent.

The Cabinet Council authorized the Minister to employ that money in beginning to build one new cruiser in the State arsenals and another cruiser in streets, was found murdered this morning private Spanish shipbuilding yards. of sixteen million dollars on the guarantee of revenue from a special tax created last year for the increase of the navy.

Weyler Will Yet Breed Trouble.

The military and civil governors of Santander arrived at Madrid to-day lives at Twenty-fifth and Naudain streets to get instructions from the Government about the conduct they must follow when Weyler arrives. Weyler's friends insist on demonstrating, while the Socialists, Republicans and Liberals also insist on counter demonstrating. So a conflict is imminent in Santander. The steamer Montserrat, with Weyler on board, is expected on the 19th of November in Corunna, where also a demon- covered by Mrs. Reed, janitress of the stration in his honor is being prepared.

WASHINGTON IS ALERT, yenten Despite Sagasta's Friendly Message and De Lame's Diplomacy, Government Is Pushing Its Defence Work.

Washington, Nov. 10.-There are people high in official circles in Washington who read a sinister menace in Premier Sagasta's seemingly friendly message, published this morning. It is the character of the message which might be sent on the brink of Cisneros's birth, breeding and standing war, and this impression is strengthened by the fact that in both Spain and the United States preparations for coast de-The Famous Britannia Bobs Up at Key fence and naval offence are being pushed with greater rapidity than at any time in years. Assistant Secretary Roosevelt has sent his torpede fleet into Southern waters, and by the time Congress meets, when the President's message on Cuba may be expected, the torpede fleet will have rendezvoused within striking distance of the Florida coast. In the meantime, the powerful squadron now taking on coal stores and munitions of war in the harbor of New York will go to Hampton Roads for the Winter's manoeuvres. These vessels will be ready to move at an hour's notice, and can get in touch with the torpede fleet. can get in touch with the torpedo fleet within two days from Hampton Roads. Lots of Preparation.

It should be borne in mind that the torpedo boats, not constructed for rough weather, could not be depended on to brave Cape Hatterns in the Winter season, and so are sent down in advance to be ready for any emergency—for it dash on the Cuban coast or to repet a Spanish fleet.

Despite all these trainings and strippings for conflict, both the Spanish Government and the Administration are innking strained efforts to give the public the impression that all is fovely and screne. The Administration having assured the Spanish Government of its friendly purpose, is extremely anxious that the country should remain absolutely quiescent and neutral until the proposed measure of autonomy has been definitely accepted or rejected by the insurgents. It is willing that Captain-General Blanco's peace policy should be tried upon the rank and file of the insurgents until it can be learned wether or not their forces can be disintegrated. Should a strong renewal of Cuban agitation in the United States or the successful escape of a number of alleged fillbustering expeditions take place within the next few weeks, it would jeopardize the life of the tender plant of confidence in the United States which is now being nurtured in the Spanish breast.

He has under his wing in Washington Senor Canaleias, the distinguished editor of the Madrid Ei Heraldo, and proposes to show him the marked change which he says is coming over sentiment in America, as well as the fact that the conservative classes have always been pro-Spanish, by giving him a dinner at the Metropolitan Club Friday night. To that dinner will be invited all the Cabinet officials, a certain number of assistant secretaries, several members of the Diplomatic Corps, and a number of Sensfors and Representatives, especially of the Foreign Relations Committee.

But it is known even how that the dinner list has been very carefully expurgated; no known Cuban sympathizer will be present, Senators Foraker, Rurrows and Mason, on the Republican side of the Chamber, are all in Washington, are all ardent sympathizers of Cuba, and not one of them has been summoned to the feast; neither have Senators Cockrell, Harris or Wilson.
